

Ann O'Brien

Ann O'Brien is the Special Counsel for Criminal Policy and Assistant Chief of the Competition Policy Section at the Antitrust Division of the U.S. Department of Justice. After clerking in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, in 2000 Ann began her career at Justice as a prosecutor in the Antitrust Division's Cleveland Field Office. Ann has since held senior leadership positions in the Antitrust Division involving criminal cartel enforcement and policy development, including Acting Director of Criminal Enforcement, Assistant Chief of the Criminal II Section, Counsel to the Assistant Attorney General for Antitrust, and Senior Counsel for Criminal Enforcement. From 2011 to 2013 Ann also served as a Special Assistant United States Attorney prosecuting a wide variety of federal crimes in her hometown, Greenbelt, Maryland. Ann attended the University of Notre Dame and Northeastern University School of Law.